SOUND OFF

729-4006

Sound Off 729-4006 is your personal forum and squawk box. We broadcast your comments on most any subject. To sound your voice, please call 729-4006 after 5 p.m. on weekdays and anytime over the weekend. A word to the wise: you must not speak ill of your fellow citizens. Be brief. Be interesting. Otherwise we may edit you.

Some Westland council members hide from voters after election

I'm a Westland voter, and I get sick to my stomach every time I watch a council meeting. I voted for some of these people as my spokesmen, but these people have unlisted numbers so I can't contact them when I disagree with what they're doing. So I'm calling "Sound Off."

My complaint is that spend $55,000 on a [recreation] survey so an outsider can tell everybody what they want to hear.

If you want to build a city hall or a recreation center, ask the citizens directly. Or are you afraid they'll turn it down.

All I know is that the city shouldn't compete against hall rentals and Powerhouse Gyms, and that there is enough land to build a city hall where it is now instead of uprooting trees. And you can use the old city hall for records storage.

I always wonder why citizens don't vote. But I guess that once your voice is heard and then they shut you up and do what they want to anyway, why vote?

Uninformed people shouldn't take Halloween away from kids

This person who calls and said that children should celebrate a "gruesome holiday" doesn't know anything about Halloween's origins. [A previous caller objected to children celebrating Halloween because it supposedly evolved from All Hallows Eve, a pagan holiday—Ed.]

Us Christians don't judge people without knowing what they're talking about. Children should not be penalized because this person is afraid of something. Christians respect their dead, yes, but it's All Saint's Eve. It's been called that, and they need to know about that before they say children's lives are put in danger and their souls are lost when they worship a pagan god.

I've seen this in the paper for two weeks now, and people shouldn't talk like that.

Voters to pick new judge on Tuesday

Boo who?

Part of a happy throng of 120 Merriman Elementary School students are shown enjoying the pre-Halloween fun at the nearby Plymouth Orchard and Cider Mill. Golf course work to begin

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The long awaited plans to create a new upscale 18-hole golf course on the south side of Van Born road (west of Merriman) is now slated to begin within a week or two, the Romulus City Council was told Monday night.

Steve Devers speaking for the Legacy Estates project that will also include hundreds of homes, asked for a year extension on a tentative plat approval given by the council on Oct. 13, 1997 for the 330 acre site.

Devers, when questioned by city council members, confirmed that plans were continuing...but were somewhat late because of engineering involvements.

He added that a golf dome could be added to the project—so that local golfers could practice their game no matter what the weather.

If all goes well, Devers said, the new golf course could be open to the public next October (about a year behind earlier schedules.)

Devers said that plans then call for work to begin next spring on the needed infrastructures for the subdivisions homes. Work on the homes would then start in July.

The council unanimously agreed to the preliminary plat extension.

In other matters before the council:

•A request to rezone the eastern 126.5 feet of property on the west side of Wayne road (south of Wick) to enable the existing Marathon Gas Station to expand was denied by a unanimous vote by the council.

After getting an earlier narrow 5-4 favorable vote from the city's Planning Commission, the Marathon team attempted to purchase a nearby home to expand its property, but said it found the listed price too high.

They instead bought other property and later attempted a land trade with the home owner, but that failed also.

The company then changed its site plans by moving the location of the planned new gas station back and added considerable amounts of greenery.

But Councilmen William Crova and Donald Morris stated strongly that they felt the land area was too small for a rezoning, but said the gas station (that has been at that location for 30 years) could continue on its current site if it wished.

Morris told the applicants that the city has a vision to upgrade its fuel station sites for the new century, since many changes are expected to occur in the coming decade particularly on Wayne road.

The council then unanimously voted to deny the zoning change.

•The council okayed a request by the city's Emergency Management Coordinator Margaret Leduc to purchase a new storm warning siren for $17,000. Leduc said she also is applying for a federal grant that if approved would allow the city to purchase two such sirens for the price of one.

If denied by the federal agency, Leduc said, the city would only purchase a single siren.

Romulus man caught in sex sting

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

In their continuous crack-down on prostitution and illegal drugs activities on the far east-side of the city, Wayne police arrested five men, including a Romulus and Westland resident, for soliciting sex on Michigan Avenue.

One of the five suspects, Gregory Richards, 33, was also arrested for possession of marijuana, and was arraigned in an out-county courtroom before Judge Gerard Trudel.

Richards, an Orion Township resident, stood mute when charged and the court entered a plea of not guilty. The defendant was placed on a $10,000 bond, 10 percent, and failed to come up with the $1,000 to secure his release.

Richards was remanded to Wayne County Jail until his preliminary examination.

Lt. Jack Garrett, of the Wayne Police Department, said that the suspects' cars have been seized and forfeited under the state's Forfeiture Law.

Garrett said a special police unit has been concentrating on illegal drugs and sex activity, and the department has managed to successfully conduct two sweeps.

The latest sweep occurred Friday afternoon and was focused on an area of Michigan Avenue, east of Venoy Road. Police said the defendants are from the cities of Westland, Romulus, Taylor, Monroe, and Orion.

Garrett refused to identify the latest group involved in the "sex sting" until the defendants made their official appearances in court.

Asked whether the ongoing investigation and the closure of the adult movie house, Melody Theater, on Michigan Ave. in the city of Inkster has moved the prostitution trade to the city of Wayne, police officials say that they do not believe so.

In September of this year, police arrested 14 "johns" and two prostitutes in a similar "sex sting". Those cases were on the Wayne County Prosecutor's desk and are slowly moving into the courtroom.

The Prosecutor's Office has issued arrest warrants, and some of the defendants, with their attorneys, have surrendered themselves to the court.

The chief added that the ongoing sweeps are a part of the department's commitment to improve the quality of life of the citizens and the businesses in the area involved.

The hard fought battle for the 34th District Court judicial seat between Romulus' Brian Oakley and Huron Township's Norman Kohlstrand will be decided next Tuesday.

Both candidates hope that unlike in 1996, voters will remember to vote for one of the candidates—rather than make the mistake of voting the party ticket thinking that it will carry over into the judge's line.

This year's ballot—including the race for governor and several state and county proposals—is extremely long as it was in the presidential year of 1996.

Oakley and Kohlstrand's names do not appear until the tail end of the non-partisan judges' listings and immediately before the three state proposals—including the controversial Proposal B (known as the doctor assisted suicide issue).

Back in 1996, it is estimated that several thousand voters failed to cast their ballots correctly in the battle between Oakley and incumbent Judge William Szlinis.

Szlinis ultimately won that election.

Both Oakley and Kohlstrand have taken part in a series of joint appearances throughout the five municipalities involved in the Romulus-based court, namely the cities of Romulus and Belleville and the townships of Huron, Van Buren and Sumpter.

While both judicial candi-

Basham facing limited challenge

By AL POST

State Representative Raymond Basham (D-Taylor) seeking his first re-election bid since succeeding former Rep. Gregory Pitoniak, is facing a limited challenge from Republican Sue Chmielewski.

Because of problems with the head of the Democratic ticket and in Washington, Basham also has kept a very low profile. Election watchers however say Chmielewski has been just short of invisible.

Basham's brief tenure in Romulus however has been dates feel comfortable with the latest financial agreement for the court between the five municipalities, election observers will be watching to see if any of the old anti-Romulus hostilities still remain alive in the other communities in the district.

What adds to the complexities of this judicial race is that neither candidate is an incumbent and and whoever succeeds retiring Judge Henry Zaborowski will serve until Jan. 1, 2005.

The polls will be open next Tuesday from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

While both candidates feel growth in the number of civil and criminal cases will be the 34th District Court's challenge in the next century, Oakley and Kohlstrand have different feelings on what is the biggest issue in the election.

Oakley, who has worked within various court systems, feels the biggest issue facing voters is which candidate is "best qualified to succeed Judge Zaborowski."

Kohlstrand, who cites his varied record of working as a county sheriff's deputy and both a prosecuting and defense attorney, feels he could serve as a full time judge.

He claims his opponent would be limited in scope since his father is the current mayor of Romulus.

Oakley discounts that charge saying the State Bar Association and Chief Judge Tina Green state there is no "inherent" conflict of interest with him sitting as judge, while his father is mayor.

somewhat positive and he has the support of both those in education and in the anti-deep-well dispute.

Meanwhile the Romulus voters also face another decision on Tuesday and that is who to support to succeed County Commissioner Bruce Patterson.

Republican Melissa McLaughlin (R-Canton) is squared off against Democrat John Sullivan (D-Wayne) for the two year seat on the county level.

This race also has been unusually low key particularly since neither candidate is an incumbent.

Taylor man killed in Romulus crash

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A 42-year-old Taylor motorist, who was not using his seat belt last Thursday afternoon, was fatally injured when his vehicle was struck head on along Eureka road, despite his attempts to avoid the crash.

According to Lt. Eric Painter, the victim, Dino J. Holmes, was traveling east on Eureka road at 3:40 p.m. when he crossed the center line as he merged into traffic.

Apparently realizing the danger, Painter said, Mr. Holmes attempted to head for the shoulder of the road, but was struck head on by a red 1998 Ford Explorer driven by Richard Hough, 67, of Livonia.

The Explorer's twin air bags activated quickly and thus both Hough and his wife, Katherine, suffered only minor injuries—a twisted ankle, the police report said.

Mr. Holmes however had to be extricated from his 82 Lincoln by Romulus firefighters' jaws of life apparatus. He was pronounced dead at Heritage Hospital in Taylor.

Traffic Officer Cliff West is handling the investigation along with Officer Duane Smith.

Police are still awaiting various test results back from state labs, but said there was no indication at this time that alcohol was a factor in this accident.

Painter said however that Mr. Holmes' driving privileges had been suspended prior to the day of the crash incident.

Any witnesses to the crash are urged to contact either police officer at 734-941-8400.

Wick School students aid seniors with home chores

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

More than 40 energetic Wick Elementary School students from Romulus helped 15 senior citizens with the household chores during last Saturday's "Make a Difference Day."

The 4th, 5th and 6th grade students working under the leadership of Student Council Advisors Lisa Kerr and Jennifer Richard helped seniors, whose names were supplied by the city's Housing Commission.

Kerr said "we were thinking about school projects for the student council members, when one of the youth asked if they could help older people."

She added "everyone liked the idea, so we contacted the Housing Commission for names of area residents in need of help."

"After receiving the names more students volunteered, so we were able to add even more seniors to our list," Kerr said.

The students led by six supervisors took off for their projects armed with rakes, litter bags, gloves and a lot of enthusiasm at 8 a.m.

They were divided into work groups and each helped two senior citizens by cleaning their yards, pulling weeds and doing other light maintenance work.

One of the aided seniors, Nellie Whitner, contacted by phone praised the youth by saying "Those students were the best. They worked very hard, did not fool around and when they were finished they even cleaned up after themselves."

"I greatly appreciate what they did and want to thank them very much," she said on behalf of the other seniors.

A political letter written by the head of the local NAACP endorsing 34th District Court Judicial candidate Norman Kohlstrand last weekend is being challenged by the organization's first vice president from Inkster.

Leonard Mungo, president of the Western Wayne County Branch of the NAACP, wrote to African American voters in the 34th District Court area (in particular Romulus and Sumpster Township) stating "how difficult it is for African Americans to receive fairness in our courts."

Then he urges the letter receiver to cast his or her vote for Kohlstrand.

While the letter carries the letterhead of Mungo and Associates, Mungo does mention twice in the letter that he is president of the local NAACP.

In a phone interview late Tuesday afternoon, Mungo said it was his private opinion that Kohlstrand should be elected, but "no one can separate me from being president of the NAACP."

Mungo said he went to law school with Kohlstrand, admires his style and strongly supports his election.

But he also feels Earl Truss, first vice president of the local NAACP, also is within his rights to write a counter letter of his own stating that "according to the NAACP's own By-Laws, we can not endorse any candidate for any office. We apologize to anyone who may have been offended by this (Mungo's) letter."

Truss stressed that Mungo's above mentioned letter "in no way was authorized by the Western Wayne County Branch Officers, Executive Committee or its members."

Attempts to reach Truss Tuesday were unsuccessful.

The letters reportedly were hand delivered to voters' homes by volunteers supplied by Kohlstrand.

Mungo said his inference about African Americans finding it difficult to receive fairness in our (Michigan) courts is supported by a 1989 Michigan Supreme Court Task Force report stating not only was there bias against African Americans in Michigan courts at the time, but the instances occurred at a disturbing frequency.

Mungo said he had no qualms about any other NAACP member writing public letters on the political race between Kohlstrand and Brian Oakley and actually would encourage them.

The elderly have so much to offer. Their wisdom and knowledge are treasures that shouldn't be forgotten. And with your help they won't be.

The United Way supports 23 agencies in southeast Michigan that encourage the elderly to become more independent. Centers like Adult Well-Being Services offer dance and exercise classes, volunteer work and other social activities that can be very rewarding.

Last year, you helped fund those agencies with $2.2 million. This year, the need for help is even greater. For every dollar donated, 90 cents goes directly to people in need. So your gift not only offers help to the elderly, it's a reminder that someone somewhere out there cares. You.

Westland native Randy Wittner has been hired to get Taylor city government through the upcoming year 2000 computer glitch and beyond.

Wittner, 30, who now lives in Plymouth, has become director of Taylor's management of information systems.

He now is responsible for upgrading the computer systems in City Hall, Taylor Police Department and the 23rd District Court.

Mayor Gregory Pitoniak revealed recently his goal is to bring greater technology to Taylor city operations "to allow our employees to do their jobs more effectively and efficiently."

Hired at $65,000 salary, Wittner now has one and a half years to relocate in Taylor.

Dottie Deremo

Dottie Deremo has been named chief executive officer of the Hospice of Michigan, the state's largest provider of end-of-life care.

She brings 28 years of experience in the health care industry to her new position. She formerly served as vice president of patient care services and chief nursing officer at Henry Ford Hospital.

She has earned master's and bachelor's degrees from Wayne State University and a master's degree in health services administration from the University of Michigan.

Orlando C. James, son of Justina Eucarnacion of Inkster, enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Entry Program on Sept. 15.

James, a 1998 graduate of Lakeview High School in Chicago, is scheduled for enlistment in the regular Air Force on Dec. 16th.

Upon graduation from the Air Force's six week basic training course in San Antonio, Tex., James is scheduled to receive technical training in the electronics career field.

Essie Williams of Inkster has been honored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County for being an outstanding volunteer. She was cited for her more than 1,500 hours of service to the Radiology Department of Henry Ford Fairlane Hospital as well as serving as a lay reader and member of St. Clement's Episcopal Church of Inkster.

Dr. Ouida Cash was also honored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County in the professional field for her work in the Inkster-based Starfish Family Services, that was created in July via the merger of Youth Living Centers and North-western Community Services.

Prior to the merger, Cash served for 13 years as the CEO of Youth Living Services, which was named the Best Managed Nonprofit by Crain's Detroit Business in 1996.

Earlier Cash was a recipient of a Spirit of Detroit award.

Opinion

M I C H I G A N C O M M U N I T Y N E W S P A P E R S

Bennett, DeHart, McLaughlin and Oakley deserve your vote

Mark next Tuesday on your calendar. This is the most important day in November as far as we are concerned. This is the day we decide on who will be our leaders. This is the day we stand in line to cast our ballots for the candidates and issues of our choice.

As a newspaper we endorse the following candidates:

Republican incumbent senator LOREN BENNETT to defeat Wayne mayor Ken Warfield for the 8th Senatorial District seat. We chose Bennett because he has been extremely active in Lansing, as well as on home front. We might not always agree with some of his activities, such as accepting more PAC money than most of his peers, but he is visible and in our opinion, represents his constituents better than most. On the other hand Warfield is an old-time Democrat, with close ties to the Union hierarchy and county czar, Ed McNamara. If elected he promises to improve roads, work vigorously for HMO reform and higher state-mandated education standards. Bennett tips the scales because of his Lansing connections.

Those same connections are why we support Democratic incumbent EILEEN DEHART over newcomer Steve Conley in the battle for 18th District Michigan House of Representatives. DeHart is swiftly moving up the Democratic leadership ladder and is using that clout to bring home the bacon to her district. She supports smaller class size legislation, modifying concealed weapons permits and protecting the pensions of state employees. Conley tows the basic Republican ideology of smaller government.

In the vacant 11th District County Commission seat, we favor MELISSA MCLAUGHLIN over John Sullivan. Republican McLaughlin has served as a Canton Township trustee since 1992. She promises to battle vigorously for the rights of Western Wayne citizens that are somewhat ignored by the McNamara administration. In contrast, attorney Sullivan said he feels the best way to accomplish the most for Western Wayne is to work with the McNamara administration, not against them.

In the battle for 34th District Court, we favor BRIAN OAKLEY over Norm Kohlstrand. Kohlstrand's major battle cry is that Oakley is the son of Romulus mayor, William Oakley, therefore there would be an inherent conflict of interest if Oakley were to be sitting on the bench. Oakley refutes that by saying he has checked with the Michigan State Bar, Chief Judge Tina Green, and others, and they all see no conflict.

All kinds of fireworks are flying in the State Senate's 6th District where veteran Democratic Senator George Hart is being challenged by prominent Dearborn Republican, Rhonda Runco. We choose not to endorse either candidate. Hart is in our doghouse because supposedly associates have spread false campaign literature that claim Runco has been a stripper and female escort. Although we sympathize with Runco, and believe no candidate should have to put up with these character assassinations, little is known about Runco and her political platform, thus we leave it up to voters to make their own decision in this race.

In the 13th Congressional District we support LYNN RIVERS, the Democratic incumbent. Challenger Tom Hickey has simply failed to mount a significant campaign challenge in a year when Ms. Rivers should be vulnerable (because of an expected Clinton backlash). Although Rivers is considered too liberal for Western Wayne, she manages to get re-elected time and again because she spends a lot of time attending Western Wayne functions where she is always available to listen to constituents.

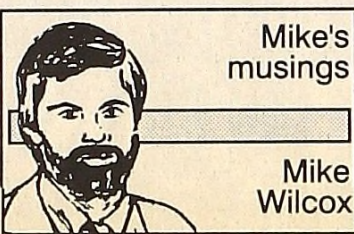

In the race for governor, JOHN ENGLER is our overwhelming choice. Ditto CANDACE MILLER for Secretary of State. In the race to replace Attorney General Frank Kelley, we choose democrat JENNIFER GRANHOLM over John Smietanka. Both are highly qualified but local girl Granholm has the education and experience to make an exceptional attorney general.

Three propositions have caught our eye. State Proposal A is a proposed constitutional amendment to change the word "handicapped" to "disabled" in our state constitution. It is the opinion of MCN that constitutional amendments should not be utilized for minor word changes and thus we suggest voters turn this down.

Proposal B, the controversial plan to legalize the prescription of a lethal dose of medication in order to commit suicide also deserves a thumbs down. No one seems to like this proposal. Some think assisted suicide should not be allowed in any shape or form. Others feel that this particular brand is far too restrictive. The debate continues.

Proposal C would authorize bonds for environmental protection and clean-up programs. This one deserves a "yes" vote. Although the amount of money, only $675 million is a drop in the bucket, anything is better than nothing.

In summary we ask all voters to take time to study the candidates and issues. Look over your ballot carefully. There are many judicial positions and educational boards that deserve your attention. And for gosh sakes, no matter what the weather may be like, please get out and vote Tuesday, November 3.

What makes nonvoters a majority

Election turnout numbers occupied my thoughts walking down Woodward Avenue south of Orchestra Hall in Detroit Saturday afternoon.

Looking at the empty graffiti-covered buildings, I could understand why people are reluctant to vote.

Statistics show that about a quarter of Americans voted in this year's primaries, a record low. Less than half voted in the 1996 presidential election, another record low. Without the White House on the line this year, many pundits predict even a smaller turnout this time around.

Considering that half the voters have dropped out, it was easy to see the structure of the nation's political system tottering like a historic building in Detroit.

The boarded up buildings, littered sidewalks, and streets reportedly overrun with pit bulls drives home the point, Wayne County government doesn't work for the good.

Our elected leaders and their unelected bureaucrats siphon off hundreds of millions of dollars from suburban voters promising to revitalize Detroit. Yet the end result is a city where, in the words of the Daily Telegraph, "thousands of wild dogs...have made life so hazardous in parts of the city that the post office has threatened to stop deliveries in the worst areas."

Yet County Ed McNamara, Wayne County's Boss Tweed, and Gov. John Engler, the two leaders responsible for wasting millions in Detroit while avoiding the real problems - fixing the schools and rebuilding safe vibrant neighborhoods from the bottom up with funds diverted from their two bureaucracies - are about to be easily reelected.

Worse, most candidates on the ballot I will cast in Canton are part of either the Engler or McNamara machine, one power-crazed and the corrupt (you guess which is which), both in the thrall of the special interests who finance their campaigns.

With choices like that, no wonder Wayne and Michigan's prison populations are on the rise while statewide personal income lags behind those in other Midwestern states.

Yes the nonvoting citizens are on to something. As superstar corporate consultant Peter Drucker pointed out, the only way to get involved in a centralized country like America is to volunteer for a good cause.

While two stadiums and all those gambling casinos will do nothing for Detroit other than to divert the money from hiring good teachers, beefing up the police force, and preserving what's left of the neighborhoods and historic buildings, the people who worked in Make A Difference Day in Canton and Westland actually did something to brighten the corner where they live. Canton volunteers made their community playscape a more pleasant place for moms and kids to gather away from the city bureaucracy; and Westland volunteers provided immunization shots for needy kids.

The effectiveness of volunteerism is that its local and unnumbered by bureaucracies.

The ineffectiveness of government is that it's centralized, distant, and organized to benefit its bureaucrats at the expense of its subjects.

Nevertheless, I will vote on November 3 for the only two candidates I consider open to reversing the growth of the powers in Lansing and downtown Detroit.

I will vote for Bruce Patterson for state representative in the Canton-Van Buren area and Melissa McLaughlin for county commissioner in southwestern Wayne County. Both have listened to parents clamor for control of mediocre local schools and residents clamor for the privatization of Metro Airport, reckoned by many to be the nation's worst airport.

Both are knowledgeable in the details of many local issues and eager to investigate areas where they're not up to speed.

Both are listeners and thinkers.

They are our best bet to kindle the dimming spark of representative government during the reign of McNamara and Engler.

I will also vote against Proposition A, the proposal to replace the word "handicapped" with "disabled" in the Michigan Constitution, the most trivial constitutional amendment ever proposed. If "disabled" passes this year, what's to stop them from changing it to "people with special abilities" next year? Isn't that what elections are for?

Vets will be collecting donations for homeless vets

To the editor:

As you know, make a difference day is a national day set aside in October to volunteer, raise money, and collect needed goods for those less fortunate than you and I.

Our Plymouth-Canton Chapter wants to make a difference this year. We will be collecting items that our homeless veterans at the Detroit Center for Homeless Veterans, as well as for hospitalized veterans at both the Detroit and Ann Arbor Medical Facilities.

We'd appreciate any donations that you could give us. Items that we need are toothbrushes, toothpaste, shaving gear, (razors/shave cream, socks and inexpensive games such as cards and dominos. Any other item that you could donate would be appreciated. Our men and women veterans will appreciate your generosity. Thank you, and God Bless. Has faith in Brian Oakley's abilities to serve

To the editor:

I have worked at the Romulus Senior Center for well over a year. During that time, I was introduced to a man who gave of his time each month counseling Senior Citizens on a wide variety of legal issues. This man, Brian Oakley is now running for 34th District Judge. Considering his past record as one of Romulus' outstanding attorneys, I am voting for Mr. Oakley, as a small measure of my faith in his ability to serve Romulus as a Judge in the 34th District Court.

Fed Chairman Greenspan runs the economy by manipulating interest rates

To the editor:

Fed Chairman, Alan Greenspan's recent "surprise" interest rate cut was described in one periodical as: "A squashed bug on the windshield of the Global Deflationary Express."

"Still, that didn't stop Wall Street's job boys and momentum players from administering yet another well-deserved spanking to the market short-sellers."

But, is there any way to run an economy?

A better way of looking at it is that Greenspan put the US economy squarely into the global competitive devaluation race. The recent plunge of the dollar versus the Japanese Yen has been described as terrifying and unprecedented even by veteran currency traders.

In other words, it's "bigger thy neighbor" and 1930 all over again. With every passing week, it becomes clearer that the Dow Industrial Average will likely see 4500 before it sees 10,000. And, an 80 percent decline from the 9300 high is not out of the question. Are we really ready for Dow 2000. Yikes! Forget Monica!

Mark my words, the global economy is in intensive care and will not survive another six months. There is no cure. At least not one that can be discussed in a family newspaper.

Take precautions, because something very big is coming.

Warfield's poor road repair record is campaign rhetoric

Recently I received some campaign literature from Mr. Ken Warfield, the Mayor of Wayne who is running against Senator Loren Bennett. In this mailing Mayor Warfield is critical of Senator Bennett's voting record with regards to Michigan roads.

Mayor Warfield failed to mention the Senator's efforts in getting Michigan Ave. repaved nor did he point out that Senator Bennett's position on road repair legislation has been based on sound and ethical principles rather than political expediency. On the other hand, Mr. Warfield's letter failed to enumerate any practical or concrete ideas on how the problems should be addressed:

Warfield vaguely states that road repairs should be handled by the local community. Wayne residents have seen first-hand the dismal performance he has done in getting our streets repaired. While some of Wayne's streets have been repaved the work has been done in a rather disappointing and shoddy manner. All one has to do is drive down our streets to see that many sections of pavement were not replaced even though they are badly cracked and curbs are busted. One such section sits in front of my house. When I called the city about this problem I was told the old sections were okay even with the extensive damage they contain.

Mr. Warfield should know that people in glass houses should throw stones. His flier claimed he would insure that Michigan road repairs will be of the best quality. If the Mayor wants to see a quality road he should drive east-bound Michigan Ave. and see the great job Loren Bennett did for the citizens of Wayne. Mayor Ken Warfield's pitiful handling of the Wayne project speaks much louder than his political rhetoric. That is why I will be voting for someone who can get the job done right, Senator Loren Bennett.

Daniel J. Ursem*

Bennett for his accomplishments. As far as Warfield - you have told me nothing of importance. Hopefully, you will just fade away.

*Sincerely,
Frank Anderson*

Warfield should explain how he plans to accomplish goals

To the Editor:

I was recently reading a campaign flyer from Ken Warfield, and I was completely amazed at how bad it was. First of all, he doesn't even identify what office he is running for. Second, he tells us, the voters, absolutely nothing about himself.

The message he tries to convey is that he will do good things. How Nice! Exactly WHAT and HOW will you do them Mr. Warfield?

I will not support you because you have no respect for the voter. If you can't take the time to explain things, you don't deserve our support.

*Sincerely,
Heath Amish*

Warfield hasn't done anything except take vacations

To the Editor:

I have lived in Wayne for many years and have followed Ken Warfield's rather unremarkable career. He has done nothing in the City of Wayne and now he wants to do to the state senate! That is scary!

Let's send someone we can be proud of - I'm voting for Senator Bennett. He has been helpful to our schools and was instrumental in getting Michigan Avenue in downtown fixed.

Warfield hasn't accomplished anything as far as I know - except making himself better off by taking vacations as taxpayers expense.

*Sincerely
Arlene Ursem*

Past record indicates that Oakley is qualified

To the editor:

Brian Oakley, a leading Romulus Attorney, is currently running for 34th District Court Judge. As a long time resident of Romulus, I fully intend to cast my vote for him. It is a pleasure to have the assurance that Mr. Oakley is fully qualified to hold this position based on his past record and performance at the Romulus Senior Center and in the community at large. I am particularly impressed with the years he has donated offering free legal advice to us Seniors. I hope other voters will also recognize Mr. Oakley's fine qualities.

Viola Willoughby

Brian Oakley is dedicated to community

To the editor:

I was involved in Law Day through the Senior Center held at the court house. I saw first hand the dedication Brian Oakley has to his community and respect he has for the law. I feel he will make a great judge, and one who will truly care.

Paul Dorman

Brian Oakley is a willing listener

To the editor:

It is my pleasure to have the opportunity of casting my vote for Brian Oakley who is running for 34th District Judge. I have been able to speak with Mr. Oakley on a few occasions, and have found him to be a willing listener, and sensitive to my particular issue. I feel privileged to know Brian Oakley as an outstanding attorney, and future Judge.

Jacqueline Pregler

Oakley donates time to consult seniors

To the editor:

I have several reasons for casting my vote for Brian Oakley as 34th District Court Judge. One is that I have observed his concern and consideration towards the seniors at the Senior Center who has counseled and given free legal advice for over two years now. In spite of a full schedule, Mr. Oakley donated his time to offer free consultation to the seniors. He also took time out of his busy schedule to help with Law Day, which was a great intergenerational program and educational to both seniors and High School students.

Louise Shropshire

*The Annual Percentage Rate is based on the Wall Street Journal Prime Rate, the amount of the line of credit, and the LTV. For example, the APRs as of September 14, 1998 for 80% LTV lines of credit were 8.50% for lines of $50,000-$250,000, 9.00% for lines of $25,000-$49,999, 9.50% for lines of $5,000-$24,999; and 11.50% for all lines of credit with an LTV greater than 80%. APRs are variable and subject to change. Maximum APR is 18.00%. $40 annual fee is waived the first year. If your State Equalized Value does not qualify you for the loan amount requested, you will be required to pay $250 for an appraisal. Property insurance required. Consult your tax advisor regarding tax deductibility.

years. I believe I have the experience, qualifications and vision to help lead Michigan into the next century.

I have 24 years of law enforcement experience. I was Berrien County Prosecutor for 7 and 1/2 years, was the U.S. Attorney for western Michigan for 12 years, was Special Assistant to the U.S. Attorney General, assigned to prosecute the El Rukn gang, and was Chief Assistant to the Deputy Attorney General of the U.S., where I managed the day-to-day operations of the U.S. Justice Department, overseeing more than 85,000 employees.

I have put murderers, drug dealers, rapists and child pornographers behind bars. I have also prosecuted gang members, organized crime members and political corruption cases. But even more than that, I have designed a program, now in use in over 170 cities nationwide, to help residents take back their neighborhoods. My Weed and Seed program brings together law enforcement officials, neighbors, community organizations, and representatives from business, labor, churches, and government to help communities break the power of gangs, bullies, drugs and violence and rebuild their neighborhoods.

I have earned the endorsement of Michigan's Fraternal Order of Police, the Police Officers Association of Michigan, the Police Officers Association of Michigan, the Police Reserve Officers Association of Michigan, and almost 2/3rds of the state's county prosecutors and sheriffs. I am proud to have earned the support of thousands of law enforcement officials across the state who put their lives on the line every day.

Just as important, I have a vision for Michigan. I will not only continue, but I will expand upon, the efforts of our current Attorney General on behalf of consumers. My dedication to consumer protection goes back to 1974 when I started one of the state's first consumer protection units in my prosecutor's office in Berrien County. I want to take that protection one step further, and bring together members of business and the community to identify potential problems and stop bad business practices before we have victims.

In addition, I will use more of the resources of the Attorney General's office to fight crime. Michigan's Constitution identifies the Attorney General's office as the chief law enforcement office of the state. I have put forward plans to reorganize and reenergize the Attorney General's office so that we use our tax dollars wisely to prevent crime, protect our citizens and create the best consumer/business climate in the United States right here in Michigan.

I will create task forces within the Attorney General's office to deal with problems such as multi-county gangs, organized crime, high-tech and computer crimes, and consumer and business fraud. I will also bring to law enforcement officials in this state the high-tech and computer resources they need to more effectively and efficiently do their jobs.

I look forward to putting my experience to work for the people of Michigan. I have always sought out opportunities to help people, and that is why I found prosecution work so rewarding. I believe that as Attorney General I will be able to positively impact many more lives. I ask for your support on November 3. Together we can make Michigan the safest place to live, work and raise a family.

John Smietanka
Candidate for Attorney General

Voting is my choice, everyone's responsibility

To the editor:

On November 3 I will be 1,500 miles from my home in Woodbridge, Va. Still my voice will be heard because my absentee ballot is in the mail. I have never missed voting in an election since I became eligible to vote. I do it because it is my choice.

As Election Day 1998 draws near I wonder where the majority of American voters will be. Statistics show me they don't be at the polls. That's a disgrace.

During a span of 28 years the number of Americans of voting age has increased more than 77 million while the number of voters has grown by just 26 million. It doesn't take a math professor to calculate that more Americans are falling to exercise the one right, the one responsibility, that sets us apart from so many other nations - the right to freely vote for the candidates of our choice.

What is the compelling reason why Americans are not going to the polls? There is none. The biggest reason given for not voting: Too busy and no time off top the list at 21.5 percent in statistics compiled by the U.S. Census Bureau. Couple that with 13 percent who dislike the candidates and 16.6 percent who just don't have an interest and we're faced with an epidemic of voter malaise.

There is no magic pill to stop this epidemic. Yet there is a place to start - with you. Voting is essential if America is to remain strong and free. If you vote, encourage others to vote. If you are a non-voter, it's time to accept your responsibility. For our representative democracy to work well your voice and vote are needed.

I recently was driving to my home from our nation's capital. Along the way, I passed the memorials dedicated to veterans of the Vietnam and Korean wars and the site where the World War II memorial will be built. The highway took me past Arlington National Cemetery and the memorial that honors America's women veterans.

I thought about the meaning of their sacrifices, and I offered a prayer of thanksgiving for living in a nation as great as ours. Then when I got home I completed my absentee ballot.

My vote will be counted. I will never forgo exercising my right to vote, a right preserved for you and for me by those who gave something more than a vote, they gave their lives.

Give election workers a big challenge on November 3: Vote!

Wrong to spend money on Summit instead of school buses

To the Editor:

It is with horror that I read in the paper that the Canton-Plymouth school buses were not in good condition. It seems the township wants more money to bring them up to safety regulations. Why not,

I said to myself, why are they not in prime shape? All summer, and they just tell us now that school has started. More money should not be needed. The powers that be knew about this long ago. Why could they not shave off a few million dollars off from the cost of the Palacial Summit? The recreational needs of the community is all well and good, but more important is the welfare of the school children. Why do the kids always come last? This is a deplorable situation, and the township should be ashamed. Parents must get over to the meetings to complain and demand new and repaired buses. This is outrageous, to put a Country Club ahead of the needs of the kids. I am a father and I deeply resent it, that they kept it quiet til voting time. I and my wife are voting all of the people out of office, or we should have a recall.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

It's Not Just "E.T." Who Needs To Phone Home

Dear Mr. Ross: My wife is due to have triplets in two months. This is our first pregnancy and it's a high risk one. She needs to be on total bed rest, which she's taking like a real trooper. We have no family in the area, so before I leave for work each day I set her up with everything we anticipate she will need. My job is in direct sales, where I call on the clients.

I like to check in with my wife as much as possible and do so at each available pay phone. If I had a cellular phone though, she'd be able to call me if there was an emergency. Could you pay for service just until the triplets arrive? We can't afford any extras whatsoever with my wife not working and three babies on the way. Do you see my problem?

Mr. J. A. ... Mining Journal, Marquette, MI

Dear Mr. A.: I have to chuckle if you think you're going to be emergency-free after the triplets arrive. That's when the true chaos is going to begin. Face it, you're a fellow who is going to need cellular service for the next 18 years, if not more. Either that, or a sit down desk job.

I've made arrangements with Mary Tavernini of CellularOne in Marquette. She will see to it that you are properly equipped and send me the bill each month. Best wishes for your wife's safe labor and delivery of triplets—it's going to be a day unlike any other.

Dear Sir: On Senior Citizen's Day at our County Fair, I was carrying our group's money. Shortly after we arrived, I lost all of it, in or near the ladies' rest room across from the Purple Cow stand. I had hoped someone would practice the Golden Rule, so I hurried to the Lost and Found. Not there—the money was never returned.

I hope the person who kept the money was just one "bad apple" and this does not reflect that the country is less honest than when I was a child. Someone said to me shortly after, "What can you expect from a country where our politicians lie to us and most people say it is

Doctor assisted suicide ballot issue now failing

Michigan Christian circles, who are still licking their wounds on the Detroit casino issue, are feeling more confident now that a recent poll shows voters are slowing moving away from the proposal -- known as Proposal B.

A recent poll claims only 40 percent of the voters today back the suicide proposal, while 54 percent oppose it. Six percent reportedly still are undecided.

An earlier poll taken weeks before had the ballot issue winning by a 48-43 rate.

Pollster Ed Sarpolus of EPIC/MRA of Lansing credits the $4 million TV blitz by anti-assisted suicide forces with the change in voter's opinions.

Calling the issue "dead," Sarpolus said, voters now seem to agree that the ballot proposal is "too complicated and too secret."

Ed Pierce, chairman of the Merian's Friends group that arranged to have Proposal B placed on the ballot next week, knew in advance that anti-suicide forces would outspend his group's ad budget many times over.

The anti-suicide forces have paid for hundreds of TV ads weekly of various styles. Pierce said his group (who raised about $300,000 for the campaign) prepared only one which has run much more infrequently.

Merian's Friends' effort has some formidable enemies including Catholic Bishop Adam Maida, Col. Franklyn Thompson, head of the Salvation Army in Eastern Michigan, pizza king Tom Monaghan, the Right to Life organization, key hospice groups as well as statewide medical and religious units -- such as the Knights of Columbus.

Hundreds of pastors in a three county area, including the Rev. David Dahlberg of the Wayne Wesleyan Church, urged voters to oppose the suicide issue on Nov. 3 via a full-page ad in the Detroit News this past Sunday. Since many of the pastors did not list their home towns readers found it hard to determine how many of the other clergymen serve in Western Wayne County.

The only region showing support for the proposal is Wayne County -- outside of Detroit (that includes Western Wayne County).

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of New Boston is planning a sauerkraut supper on Nov. 5 and a fish dinner on Nov. 13.

The family style sauerkraut supper to be conducted from 5 to 7 p.m. Nov. 5 will include homemade sauerkraut, potatoes, vegetable, dessert and drink. Cost is $8 for adults, $5 for children with those under the age of five being served free.

Carry-outs also will be available.

The fish dinner will be served from 4 to 7 p.m. Nov. 13. The menu will include deep fried and baked fish, French fries, and scalloped potatoes. The cost is $7 for adults, $5 for youth with those under five served free. Carry-outs will be available.

Great Pumpkin Party slated Saturday

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Great Pumpkin Party -- sponsored by the Bethany Bible Church of Belleville -- will take place from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Oct. 31.

The free party -- listed as a safe alternative for Halloween treats -- will feature candy, games and prizes and is open to the public, a church spokeswoman said. The wearing of costumes is optional.

The church is located at 810 E. Huron River drive in Belleville. For further information call 697-7456.

Another alternative Halloween night party is slated for 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Romulus Wesleyan Church on Goddard road in Romulus, near Five Points.

Pastor Steve Adams revealed the party is open to area youth, who will be treated to a puppet show, a costume contest, games and various candies and snacks.

A community Thanksgiving Celebration is planned by Romulus church leaders at 7 p.m. Nov. 7 in the auditorium of Romulus Senior High School on Wayne road.

The Rev. Neil Swanger of the Ball Road Tabernacle Church said the celebration will be centered heavily on music.

An alternative Halloween adventure for local youth is slated for 4 to 7 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Living Word Worship Center, 35004 Michigan Ave., Wayne.

Truth, Truth, Truth!

In May, 1998, in a televised interview, Brian Oakley was asked by Margaret O'Kelly whether he thought there would ever be a conflict for him because his father was mayor of Romulus and so many of the court's cases came from Romulus. His response is as follows:

"I think it would be inappropriate for me to hear cases dealing with the Romulus prosecutor . . . the Romulus Police Department. I think that has a strong appearance of impropriety."

The ONLY person who has EVER said Oakley has a conflict problem to deal with has been Oakley!

Oakley cannot deny making that statement . . . or he would be telling us lies. Of course, if his statement is not accurate, then perhaps it is Oakley who does not understand the court system and how it works!

Now, Oakley wants you, the voter, to believe that 'someone is telling lies' about him . . . when the raw truth is that someone has merely pointed out what Oakley has stated as Oakley's own position . . . that he believes it would be inappropriate for him to hear more than half of the criminal cases brought in the 34th District Court because of what Oakley says is 'a strong appearance of impropriety'.

And, if he doesn't believe it, why did he say it?

(and remember . . . he's has two years to think about his answer to the 'conflict' question)

So, which is the real Brian Oakley? And where is all his integrity? Where is he courage and willingness to stand by his own words?

Why does he continue to attempt to mislead the voters?

As a voter, are you feeling coerced?

Students visit farm, petting zoo

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

With Halloween only days away more than 120 Merriman Elementary School students paid a lively visit to a Plymouth apple farm and small petting zoo.

The students took the four hour field trip only days ago to learn about apples, pumpkins and general farm life, Kindergarten teacher Rosemary Foster said.

"Children this time of year are excited about apples and pumpkins and the Plymouth Orchard and Cider Mill has both and allows students to pick their own apples and pumpkins," Foster said.

First grade teacher Barbara Jaszczak agreed saying "the farm does a great job explaining how apples grow and what happens to an orchard year round. It is both a wonderful learning and writing experience for the students."

More than 20 adults joined in the festive excursion and watched as the youth arrived and were first captivated by the petting zoo area.

The group then progressed to a barn on the farm, where they were met by an orchard staff member. The students were told how the apple maturation process begins and continues and the process of how the apples are picked.

Later the class members took out the sack lunches they have brought from home and were treated to cider and donuts supplied by the Apple Orchard.

Each visitor was then allowed to select a favorite apple and pumpkin to take home as a souvenir.

Prior to leaving the farm for a return trip to Merriman School, first grade teacher Ginny Smith spoke for all the participating teachers in thanking those at the farm and the parents "who joined us in this great learning experience."

Country Charity

99.5 Young Country disk jockeys Dr. Don and Linda Lee emceed the Third Annual Salvation Army Bowl-A-Thon at the Westland Bowl recently. The fund-raiser contributed to Wayne-Westland chapter, which says it helps over 25,000 people in the Wayne, Westland, and Romulus communities each year. All Bowl-A-Thon money is designated for holiday food baskets and toys.

Loitering law toughened

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

With the Tanger Outlet Mall preparing to open in Romulus in the near future, Romulus city officials prepared Monday night to toughen its loitering and disorderly persons ordinance to include instances of retail fraud.

In a letter to Police Chief Charles Kirby, City Attorney Stephen Hitchcock wrote Romulus "existing ordinances do no have any equivalent to this retail fraud provision. While the existing codes do have some provisions with respect to loitering, they are related to situations involving prostitution, selling of drugs and in public parks.

"I do not find any general loitering ordinance that can be applied to stores, streets, sidewalks and parking lots, where there was no belief that prostitution or selling of drugs was involved.

Hitchcock then offered a Romulus ordinance change that would include retail fraud provisions, use of revoked or canceled financial transaction devices and loitering provisions.

Also added were prohibited conduct elements in public buildings such as bringing in animals, reptiles, fowl or insects unless purchased at a local store.

Running and jostling in stores will be outlawed as well as improper use of benches.

Running and jostling in stores will be outlawed as well as improper use of benches — such as a place to sleep.

Penalties would include fines up to $500 and imprisonment of up to 90 days or both.

In another council action, a new five year contract was approved with the Police Officers Association of Michigan.

According to the contract the police will receive a 3 percent pay hike effective back to July 1, 1997, 3.5 percent back to July 1, 1998, 3.5 percent effective July 1, 1999, 3.75 percent effective July 1, 2000 and 4 percent effective July 1, 2001.

They also will get a $2,000 signing bonus.

In one final activity for Monday night City Clerk Linda Choate reminded residents that October was Domestic Violence Awareness Month and many of the actions taken this past month were coordinated by the First Step of Western Wayne County.

Old rivals clash as season ends

Glenn awaits natural rival, Wayne Memorial

Floyd Carter

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

John Glenn and Wayne Memorial will rekindle their football friendships Friday night when the two cross-district opponents meet in the 1998 classic on the Westland high school's field.

On the line is the bragging right in the Wayne-Westland Community School District for another year.

Also at stake?

A loss may cost Westland John Glenn a post-season play-off berth.

For Wayne, a victory would be the frosting on a cake to help celebrate the resurgence of Wayne football.

And Glenn, according to the prognosticators, is an 8-point favorite.

Glenn takes a 7-1 overall record and the Western Lakes, Lakes Division title in its possession, into a game with an injury-plagued Wayne Memorial team that has won four of its eight games this year.

That is probably why those who think they know are putting this one in the Glenn "W" column.

But don't bet on it.

Just read on.

Both teams are coming off of losses: The Westlanders dropped a hard-fought 20-14 decision and the conference title to undefeated Farmington Hills Harrison on a sunlit Saturday afternoon before some 5,000 fans, while Wayne Memorial couldn't handle the speed generated by Monroe's back and fell, 22-7, to the Trojans, who managed to salvage a piece of the Mega Conference Red Division title with the victory.

But, few who have been around these parts in 1995 have forgotten the classic battle.

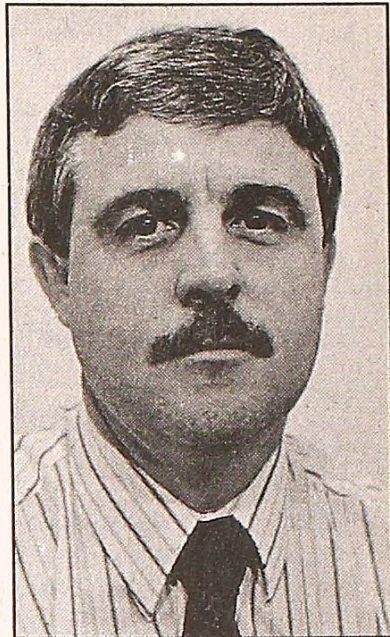

In that year, underdog Wayne jolted Glenn, 26-21. And it can happen Friday night, as Gordon knows.

"They got talent over there," Gordon said. "We won't take this, or any team lightly. It's going to be a tough game."

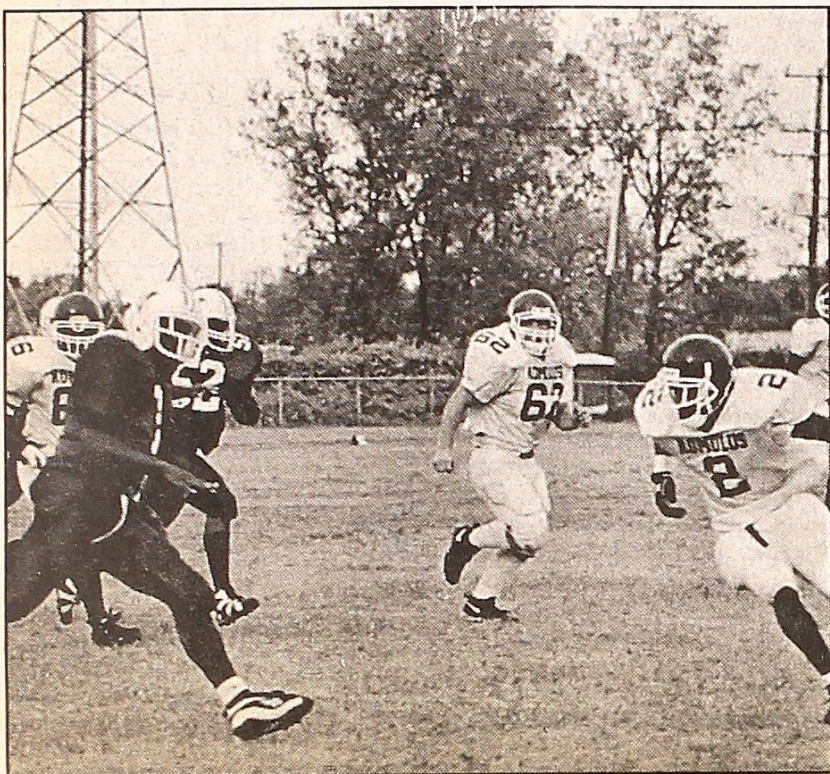

Carter wasn't available for comment at press time on Monday.

In that showdown game on Saturday on 12-Mile Road, Glenn, thanks to John Pettit struck first. On the opening kickoff, Pettit's crushing tackle forced the Harrison ballcarrier to cough up the ball inside the Hawks' 35 yard line and it took quarterback Nick Hudson and running back Reggie

Annapolis wins Gold CC title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Before and after the Mega Conference Gold Division cross country championships on Friday, Dearborn Heights Annapolis proved it was the class of the division this year.

The undefeated Cougars, a Blue Division team a year ago, captured the Mega Gold Division title, turning back a field of seven without any problems. Annapolis had a perfect 7-0 record in its inaugural year in the division.

Gibraltar Carlson was second, followed by Inkster.

"After the meet," says Inkster first-year coach Keith Bailey, "their (Annapolis) coach came up to our kids and congratulated them for a fine effort."

"In fact, the coach over there said that, because they were in the Blue Division a year ago, they felt that the real champ in the Gold (Division) this year was Inkster. And he gave our kids medals."

"Would you believe that?" asked Bailey.

Inkster produced an All-

Division runner in junior Chauncey Darden, who finished the Wayne Memorial course in 18:56, the fourth-best individual time of the championships.

The top 10 finishers were awarded the coveted designation of all-division.

The Vikings, who has a lineup of only five (seven usually is a full contingent of runners) also received a 20th-place finish from James Swanigan (20:08).

Other Inkster runners who scores were counted included: James Thornton (22nd - 20:15); Michael Dillard (23-20'19) and Al Overton (37).

Coch Bailey explained that he was left with five runners for the meet "because most of the kids were attending the homecoming ceremonies."

"I have a roster of 18 runners, and managed to get five out on the course. It was homecoming, and I understand the kids wanted to participate in the ceremonies."

Inkster hosted River Rouge Friday afternoon for its tradi-

Romulus is a perfect Gold Division champ

Belleville may spoil it for the Eagles

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Don't look for a "gimme-me" when Belleville takes on neighboring Romulus Friday night.

Despite the fact that this is one of those seasons that Belleville coach Bob LaPointe and the Tigers (3-4) would like to forget, it could be an unforgettable season for the atypical "also ran" in the Mega Conference Red Division if they can manage to knock off the state-ranked and undefeated Eagles.

Coach Mark Woodson and the playoff-bound Eagles are going into their final game of the regular season with a string of eight victories and the Mega Conference Gold Division title.

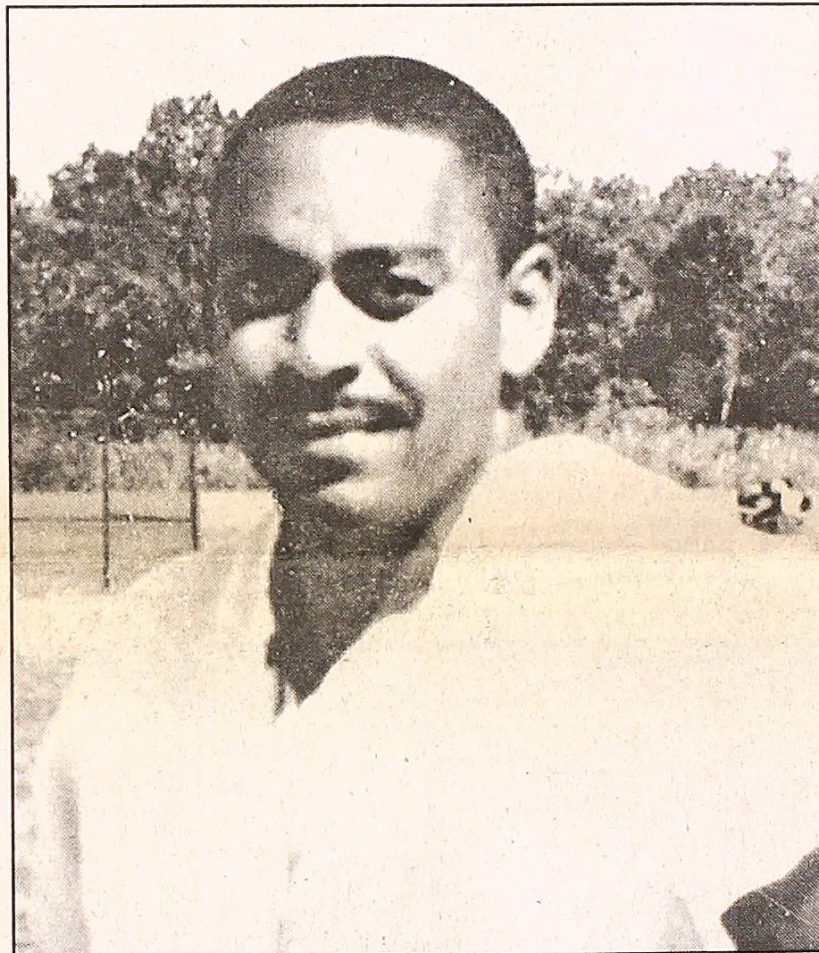

The title has been sealed and delivered after running back Freddie Russell and the Eagles humiliated Willow Run, 64-0, Friday night.

A loss to the Tigers would also cost Romulus "home field advantage" for the first two (if they get pass their first playoff opponents) games of the playoffs and, of course, mar what has thus far been a storybook year.

"Because of their injuries, they (Belleville) have had some problems this year," said Woodson. "But I believe they have those injured players back. Plus, great coaching and a program that is second-to-none means that we will be in a battle Friday night."

Of those Tiger injuries that Woodson referred to, Belleville should have back in its

With a victory over Willow Run, Romulus coach Mark Woodson is the first football coach in more than three decades to win a conference championship outright at Romulus.

River Rouge ruins Inkster homecoming

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It took two overtime periods, but winless River Rouge found a way to spoil Inkster High's Homecoming.

Inkster failed to capitalize on several excellent scoring opportunities and handed the Panthers a 6-0 Mega Conference Gold Division football decision in the second OT of the divisional final.

"We had our chances," said Inkster coach Mark Townsend after the disappointing setback.

"We were inside their 10 at least three times on three separate occasions and did not score. In fact, we dominated almost every aspect of this game with one exception, the the most important one - we couldn't score."

The loss dipped the Vikings's overall record to 2-6 on the year. They are scheduled to make the long trip to Lansing on Saturday for a 1 p.m. kickoff against Catholic Central.

With no possible hopes of a playoff berth, Saturday's encounter will be the final one for the Vikings this year.

Russell scores 4 more at Willow Run

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With senior running back Freddie Russell scoring four touchdowns, Romulus crushed Willow Run 64-0 Friday night to wrap up its first conference football championship in over 30 years.

Russell ran for touchdowns of 2, 65, 6 and 8 and amassed 218 yards in 17 attempts in his final appearance in the Mega Conference Gold Division. The victory was the eighth consecutive for the Eagles who will meet Belleville (3-4) Friday night in the regular season's finale.

Romulus is the host for the 7 p.m. game.

Woodson had an opportunity to use everyone against the Flyers, who had strung together two wins before running up against the undefeated Eagles.

"These kids do everything we ask them to do - and more," said Woodson. "One of our goals was to win a conference title, and we achieved that. But, needless to say, we have to contend with a Belleville team that is very talented, and then there are the playoffs."

"This season isn't over by a long shot," he added.

Romulus put Willow Run to bed early. While Russell was running circles around the Flyers' defense, Eagle quarterback Robert Boykins was also allowing his receivers to get their share of glory.

Boykins and tight end Carleton McCauley teamed up on a 67-yard touchdown pass. Boykins' toss sailed 15 yards be-

It's Plymouth-Salem vs. Plymouth Canton

Pride and prestige at stake

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

There is no playoff berth at stake for either team.

Or a divisional or league championship.

But when Plymouth-Salem takes to the football field against natural rival and host Plymouth-Canton you can bet the two teams and their coaches will be playing and thinking as if it were one of those do-or-die games.

In essence, it is "a must game" for veteran Salem coach Tom Moshimer, who is in the twilight of his coaching career, and for first-year Canton coach Tim Baechler, who naturally would like nothing but to whip Moshimer and the Rocks in their first-ever meeting.

And Baechler could make that happen.

"You know it's one of those kinds of games where you don't look at records," Moshimer said in a telephone interview on Sunday. "If the kind of game where pride and prestige are on the line. And when you mix those two elements into anything, watch out."

Moshimer said that he feels Canton has gotten stronger with each game, and when you add in the extra incentives, "you know this is going to be one heck of a ball game."

Both teams are coming off of conference playoff game losses.

Plymouth-Canton dropped its crossover to Livonia Stevenson 26-19, while Walled Lake Western disposed of the Rocks 30-10.

Salem got on the board in the first quarter on a 20-yard field goal by Jason Furr and, in their opening series of the second half, quarterback Matt Fair engineered a midfield drive he kept alive with a 40-yard keeper that ended with a one-yard TD.

Furr also kicked the extra point.

Canton actually worked its way to a 19-18 lead thanks to quarterback Jay Schmidt's 31-yard strike to receiver Ian Riley.

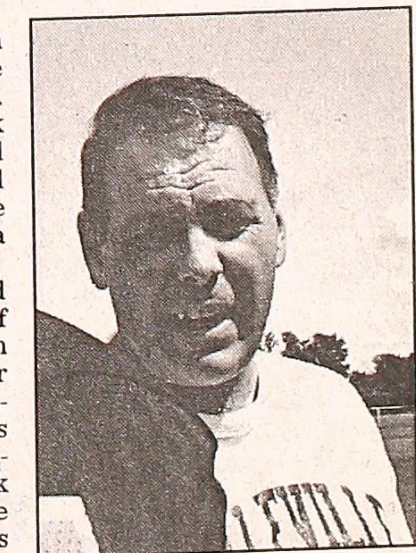

But Stevenson, also noted for its aerial attack, came right back with 2:21 left and scored on a 24-yard pass that lifted the Spartans back in control.

Canton led briefly in the first quarter thanks to Nick Stonerook's two-yard, off-tackle touchdown run. Eight-teen unanswered Spartan points put Stevenson in the lead until Schmidt's TD pass.

Walled Lake Western took the opening kickoff and marched down-field and scored in their first series. The 10-play series ended with a seven-yard TD run.

Salem scored what proved to be their final touchdown of the 1998 conference season in the third quarter when Fair went in from the one. Just before the scoring play, Fair was faced with a third and 11 situation and managed to break through on an option and race 40-yards for the first down. His

Monroe slices up Wayne, and Red title in 3 pieces

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

A superb opening kickoff return by Anthony McCarthy staked visiting Wayne Memorial to a quick 7-0 lead over host Monroe Friday night, but coach Floyd Carter's Zebras couldn't stop the Monroe title-express from rolling to a 22-7 victory and a third-of-a share of the Mega Conference, Red Division football title.

Monroe, Dearborn and Fordson surfaced with crucial wins last week and for the first time in the conference's history, three teams will share the championship. Monroe and Belleville were co-champs a year ago.

Wayne dropped its second consecutive conference and fourth overall game of the season. The Zebras will travel to Westland John Glenn Friday night where Carter's troops will face a Glenn force that has playoff ambitions and is looking to rebound from its first loss of the campaign.

The Westlanders fell 20-14 to undefeated Farmington Hills Harrison last Saturday. (See related story in Sports Section).

If Westland John Glenn should falter Friday night, the Rockets' invitation to the Class AA playoffs may be placed in jeopardy.

An inspired Wayne team could not stop the title-hungry Monroe, who recovered quickly from McCarthy's stunning 85-yard punt return. Jeremy Overton booted what proved to be the Zebras' last point of the game and the Mega Conference season.

Monroe came right back from its own two-yard line and put together a 98-yard drive that culminated in its first touchdown.

Monroe quarterback Mark Graham managed to exploited an injury-weaken Wayne defense. The key play in that Monroe TD drive was a Ruman rush for 16-yards on a third and one situation at the 11 yard line.

Graham and Brad Ruman teamed up on a 74-yard pass-run play that gave the hosts their first TD. Then, with Mitesh Patel's point after, Monroe and Wayne had a tied (7-7) game with 3:58 remaining in the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter, Monroe got excellent field position and drove 48-yards in 10 plays with Ruman dashing over the Wayne goal line from six-yards out for the go-ahead TD.

The Trojans opted for the two-point conversion and running back Chad Mosher got the job done on an off-tackle slant. It was Mosher who saved the series when he converted a three-yard run on a fourth and one situation for a first down.

Monroe got on the scoreboard with 8:33 left in the opening half, and Wayne never saw the lead again.

Ruman scored on a one-yard plunge in the fourth quarter after a fumble recovery at the Wayne 37 yard line by Andy Marchese.

Wayne quarterback Terry Turner and his receivers had problems breaking the Monroe code of defense, especially in the air. Turner tried 15 passes and found receivers only five times for 34 yards. He also attempted eight rushes and gained 29 yards - that's how well the Monroe defense focused in on him.

Cameron Mingo, still hurting from an earlier injury, had 10 rushing opportunities and picked up 34 yards.

On the other hand, Wayne's defense continued to shine. Turner, Scott Sheedy, Overton, Pat Czarnik along with Ryan Czyzak and Jarmaine Garner managed to spread the tackles around.

Turner was credited with an incredible nine initial hits, and had one assists, while Czarnik collected seven solos and an assist. He also had one sack of the QB resulting in a 8-yard Monroe loss. Mike Cunningham had the only other sack, which tossed the Trojans for a 10- yard loss.

The tide turns

The tide quickly turned for Glenn's Chuck Gordon (above) who saw his Rockets turn a Farmington Hills Harrison opening kickoff fumble into a 7-0 lead. But the host managed to do some capitalizing on their own, ironically a Glenn punt that sailed a yard or two gave the Hawks their second TD and helped seal a 20-14 victory and the overall Western Lakes Conference title. Western Lakes coaches pick all-league soccer teams

Two undefeated divisional champs earned the lion's share of the Western Lakes Conference pickings when it came down to the all-conference soccer teams.

Plymouth-Canton was undefeated in the Western Division, and Livonia Stevenson, posted an untarnished 5-0 record in the Lakes Division.

The coaches coaches drafted 12 players for the 1998 Western Lakes "All-Conference" Boys Soccer team. The lineup includes: Defenders - Aaron MacDonald (senior, Plymouth Salem), Bill Fischer (senior, Livonia Franklin), and Nick Szczechowski (senior, Plymouth-Salem).

The Mid-Fielders for the 1998 conference team are: Sergio Mainella (senior, Livonia Stevenson), Tim Kelleher (sophomore, Northville), and Mark Sicilia (senior, Livonia Churchill).

Coaches selected forwards Scott Wright (senior, Plymouth-Canton), Tom Eller (junior, Livonia Stevenson)m George Kithas (senior, Livonia Churchill), Craig Hearn (senior, North Farmington) and Tim Rais (senior, Farmington).

Livonia Stevenson's stand-out in goal, Joe Suchara, a senior was named as the coveted team's Keeper.

Western Lakes coaches also named their All-Division Team which included Robert Barnes (Canton), Doug Koontz (Canton), Ken Kozlow (Churchill), Luke Leftwich (Northville), Ryan Kracht (Franklin),

Joe Mathis (Stevenson), Jeff Budd (Stevenson), Phil Gasparotto (Farmington)

The Mid-Fielders are: Justin Fishaw (Canton), Kirt McKee (Canton), Victor Anagli (Walled Lake Western), Rob Bohler (Franklin), Jay Mentzel (Harrison), Mike White (Stevenson), Dan Wieechowski (Salem), Patrick Faloon (Farmington) and Justin Street (North Farmington).

The lineup for the Foward position includes: Brandon Bethell (Northville), Guiseppe Ianni (Salem), Scott Duhl (Salem), John Sterling (John Glenn), Jason Southard (Walled Lake Central) and the Keepers are Steve Kleczynski (Churchill) and Doug Campau (Walled Lake Central).

WYAA registers for basketball

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With the high school football season about to become history, and the Little League season already history, the Westland Youth Athletic Association is turning to indoor sports and will begin this week with basketball registration. WYAA officials announced this week that they will conduct a one-day early basketball registration on Saturday (Oct. 31) from 10 a.m. until noon. Those who take advantage of the early registration will also get a $5 discount on registration fees.

Registration after the initial sign up will cost potential players $50.

Registration will be accepted at the Lange Compound on Farmington Road, north of Ford Road.

WYAA is seeking players in the following age groups: 9-10; 11-12 and 13-14, boys and girls.

For further information, please contact Keith DeMolay, WYAA media relations person, at 734-722-1251.

Spearmon a couple of plays to hit pay dirt. Spearmon scored from the two and, after Jeremy Catarino's successful boot, the Rockets were up 7-0. But, after Harrison tied the score in the same quarter, the Hawks came back with two quick second quarter touchdowns that preserved their winning streak. One of those TDs was set up by a Glenn punt that encountered an ill-wind, the ball bouncing back inside the Rockets' 20 yard line. With 3:30 left until the half, Rick Bryant scored what proved to be the clincher. Then, after the ensuing kick, the Westlanders found themselves in trouble again and, mired deep in their territory, attempted a second punt that wound up on the Hawks' 41. On the first play from scrimmage, Brian Nelson broke loose and made it to the Glenn 10 before he was nailed. With 18 seconds left, Harrison used their trump card, and Bryant scored his second TD of the game to give the hosts a 20-7 lead that managed to protect, precariously, the rest of the afternoon. Spearmon was called upon 39 times and rushed for 163 yards and scored two touchdowns. But it was Pettit who stole the show on defense, as he set up the initial Glenn TD, also blocked the point-after after the Hawks a scored their third touchdown. "This was a tough loss for us," said Gordon later. "But I felt we played an excellent second half against one of the better teams in the state."

Long inducted in EMU sports Hall of Fame

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High School basketball great Grant Long -- currently a member of the Detroit Pistons squad -- was inducted last Saturday into Eastern Michigan University's E-Club Athletic Hall of Fame. Long and six others were inducted during a 1 p.m. luncheon at the Hoyt Conference Center. Long was credited with helping lead the 1988 EMU team to its first Mid-American Conference basketball championship and first ever NCAA Division 1 Tournament appearance. He also was named the most valuable player in that conference. He has played a decade in the National Basketball Association (taking part in 698 games to date). He has played with both the Miami Heat and the Pistons teams.

Boykins later stepped aside and allowed Plave to handle the throttle of the Romulus engine on offense, and the 6-1, 190-pound senior responded with a TD tosses of his own. He hit Kevin Thomas with a 15-yarder during the waning minutes of the third quarter.

lineup all-state candidate Cullen Jenkins, along with Brandon Montgomery and Greg Terrell, the core of the Tigers assault team. With another one of those makeshift lineups, Belleville continued to have its problems last week they dropped a 21-0 decision to Dearborn Fordson. The loss was expected, but the way they loss wasn't. For the first time in recent memory, Belleville bottled up in its own territory for all of the first half. When they uncorked the bottle, sometime in the third quarter, Belleville's lone TD threat was erased because of a fumble. The victory assured the Tractors of a share of the Mega Conference title. Fordson dominated the Tigers in the first half, and didn't allow their opponents to get beyond midfield the entire first half. LaPointe put it this way to the media: We couldn't muster anything with our offense."

It could have been worst if it had not been for Mark Kroger's punting. Kroger was called upon five times in the first half to punt and his kicking erased three excellent Fordson threats. But Rendell Winston broke the ice and scored from the three to give the Tractors a 6-0 lead, then in the third quarter Fordson turned the 7-0 lead into a 14-0 advantage. In their first series of the second half, Fordson got an insurance TD. Belleville had one excellent scoring chance eliminated by Ahmend Harajili, who intercepted a Tiger pass after Belleville had reached the Fordson 28 yard line early in the third quarter. The loss left Belleville holding a 3-4 overall record.

utes of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, Romulus strong safety Mark Carter scooped up a Willow Run fumble and raced back 22 yards into the Flyers' end zone for a touchdown. Also in the final quarter, fullback Mark Carter went up-the-middle untouched and scored from 20 yards out. On defense, Rick Foster stood out as he counted five solo tackles and one assist. McCauley got credit for two solos, two assists and an interception, while Boykins, from his strong safety slot, nailed three solos and an equal number of assists.

Meet the all new, extremely sophisticated, new edge style of the 1999 Cougar

By VIC BERNSTEIN
MCN Automotive Writer

After years of being based on the Ford Thunderbird, Cougar was reborn as a 5 passenger midsize, front wheel drive hatchback sports coupe. It is a very pleasant addition to the Mercury line up that helps liven up this classy but stodgy line. Designed to compete with the Dodge Avenger, Saturn SC2, Acura CL, Mitsi Eclipse RS, Chrysler Sebring. Final assembly is performed here in Flat Rock, Michigan at the auto Alliance Plant.

Power My demo came with a 2.5L Duratec 24 valve EFI-DOHC V-6 linked to a 5 speed manual transmission that delivers 170 hp at 6,240 rpm. I found the engine to have very good low speed acceleration and adequate power towards the high end. While no complaints about power, do not expect a racing car. Power is adequate to insure the drivers enjoyment.

Handling and Performance The COUGAR has front wheel drive and Rack & pinion power assist steering rated at a 37 turning circle. Front suspension is independent strut mounted helical coil and aft you have conical coil linked struts. Brakes provided by duel hydraulic diagonally linked power front disk and rear drum 4 channel ABS . In regular English, COUGAR has firm suspension and tight steering which holds the road very well and also provides a smooth and responsive sense of control to the driver. Braking power was adequate.

The COUGAR's 15.5 gal gas tank offers excellent range with 19 mpg city and 28 mpg highway rating that translates into an estimated annual fuel cost of $853.

Safety COUGAR has front passenger air bags, very good

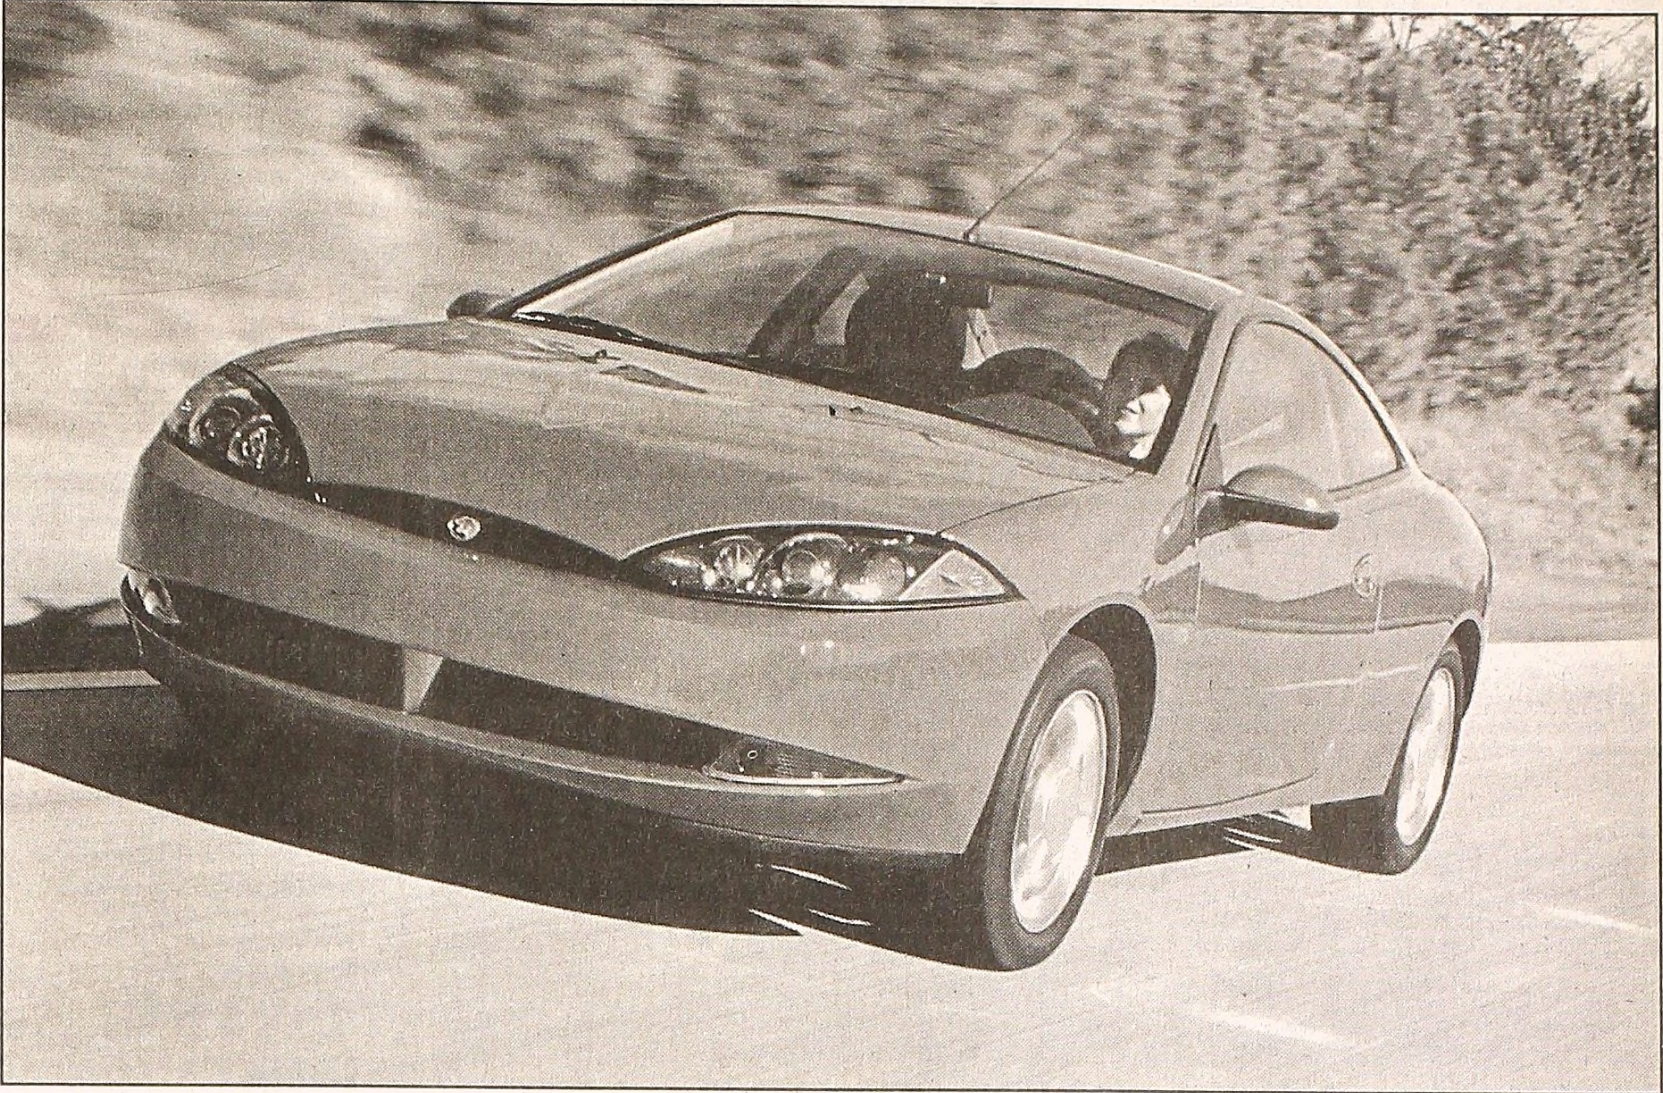

The new Cougar with its 'New Edge Design' brings a look that will grow on you. Its design is so different from its past, that it indeed takes getting use to, but trust that you will.

driver visibility, side impact beams, power locks and anti theft system..

Interior Accommodation The front seats provide for a comfortable 38" headroom, 54" of shoulder room and 42" (maximum) of legroom. Also, getting comfortable is easy with the power height adjustment and manual lumbar. The rear passengers are not so lucky with 34" headroom, 51" of shoulder room and 33" (minimum) of legroom. Getting in and out is easy to passengers in front and not so hard for the back due to a tip and slide seat design.

The instrument panel has a soft backlit cluster of analog gauges with speed, tach, eng temp, fuel, and trip computer and clock. The cabin climate control is simple and functional with a particulate air filtration system. My demo had the premium sound system consisting of 4 speakers, cassette, and trunk mounted CD changer.

Other amenities were cruise, tilt wheel, leather wrapped steering wheel, power side mirrors, power windows and a few other nice touches.

Exterior Accommodations My demo came with an attractive high quality Melinda Blue paint job and the body was a text book example of fit and finish. A power sliding sunroof offered a sporty touch and sharp 16" alloy wheels are so tasteful. The new COUGAR with its "New Edge Design" brings a look that will grow on you. Its design is so different from its past, that it indeed takes getting use to, but trust that you will.

Cargo utility With a hatch back for versatility and convenience, a modest 14.5 cubic ft of space, COUGAR can carry a few pieces of luggage, will haul groceries, but space is limited. I also would have liked to see a cargo net to keep things from moving. This area is not a strength, but if cargo is the mission, then a midsize sports coupe is not what you should be looking at.

Warranty Mercury offers a 3 year or 36,000 mile program with 24 hour roadside assistance and 100,000 mile tune interval.

The bottom line I rarely ever meet a brand new car I do not at least somewhat like. I often preview a car that I like, however would not want to pay for. However, with COUGAR I found a car that I can recommend, as I believe it is a leader in its class. With a MSRLP of $18,095 and as test price of $21,385 Priced at the mid to higher end of its competition, COUGAR still offers good value. I give this product a thumbs up. Kudos to Mercury on this one.

Youth leadership program kicks off with retreat at nature center

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

A new Youth Leadership Canton program, "designed to develop leadership and citizenship skills in middle school students began its six-mouth course last weekend with an all-day retreat at the Howell Nature Center.

The program includes 30 eighth grade students from middle schools in the Plymouth-Canton School District (East, West, Central, Pioneer and Lowell middle schools) as well as the Plymouth Christian Academy in Canton. It is the first program of its kind in WayneCounty.

The retreat in Howell included team building exercises low and high ropes outdoor activities along with a personality traits training. by the "True Colors" method. By the and of the day all 30 students had participated in the ropes course, which demanded that the youths work together on ropes more than 20 feet above ground. The day also included a speaker, Mark "Doc Andrews from the radio station WOMC.

The 30 students were selected from among 45 applicants to the program. The group will next meet on November 21 at the Canton Place seniors high-rise to serve Thanksgiving dinner to 60-80 seniors and learn more about the value of community service.

Future programs will include a Canton Awareness Day, a Public Safety Day, a look at High School and Beyond and a recognition event at the Summit on the Park next April when the group graduates.

The main objective of the unique program is to provide an effective and comprehensive program for youths resulting in the "further development of character, citizenship and leadership skills." It was put together by a committee made up of Canton municipal employees, the Canton Chamber of Commerce and the Canton Community Foundation.

In a related note the Leadership Canton program for adults locked off its fifth year with 26 big students. That's the largest class yet produced for the annual program.
